STITLE VECHNISH AVERA D'MORSE'S INVICORATING CORDIAL

TOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Mutcular Energy, Physical Lussitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered.
In fact, as a remedy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authoutically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRYDUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND OMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, less of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of selfdestruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetic, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable.
This, however, is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has cured, and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunite sufferer, as and is constantly curing these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclumental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate suffers, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of ——, Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, precured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maiatics relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimeny to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentafly obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS
THE might instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitieners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

THE COMMON EXPRESSION
of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarzaparillas,) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied that the half a dozen bottler I took will cure me."

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no reliefsuntil I procured some of your Cordial. I must say is completely oured me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial procured some of your Cordini. I must say is competency curved me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."
CAUTION.—Ask for Dr. Morae's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate famale, but de good. Beware of all other Cordinis, &c., and try only this.
It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price $5 per bottle; two bottles, $5: six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

Young Men especially, who have become the victims of Solidary Fice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being sware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

Office, No. 7 South Frederick street, Baltimore, Maryland, on the left hand side, going from Baltimore street, seven doors from the corner. Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistakethe place.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the usost eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paria, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has affected some of the post astonishing curse that were vere known. Many troubled with ringing in the cars and head when saleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at suden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that scoret and solitary habit, which rule both body and mind, unfitting them for aither business or society.

habit, which rule both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Binness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Norvous Irritability, Derangement of the Digastive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c. Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature deeay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice se fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the gause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alasi how often do they sarribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepgia, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirite, or poculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society. NERVOUS DEBILITY.

their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and rigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion 1 Such persons, before contemplating

TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reportars of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guara-sity that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable physician.

TAKE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprocessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fail into the hands of those imprudent, boasting impostors—individually advertised by the processing in the processing indicates in the processing in the processing in the processing ind

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.

[From the Baltimore American.] General Scott in Mexico

The career of Gen. Scott at the head of his army in Mexico, from the landing at Vera Cruz to the capture of the city of Mexico and the un-furling of the stars and the stripes from the battlements of the National Palace, is emblazoned by a series of victories so brilliant that they stand forth to the world to illustrate by their own light every step of that glorious progress.

The civil administration of Gen. Scott in Mexico is not so fully known and appreciated. It will be remembered that upon his taking possession of the city of Mexico the officials of the Mexican Government fled and were dispersed, and that republic was without an administration which might protect them in their rights of property and in their religious observances. One of the first duties, therefore, of Gen. Scott was to organize an efficient administration which should secure these ends-and this he did in a manner so admirable and so effective that the Mexicans, for the first time perhaps in their history, knew by experience something of the blessings of good government. Hence the proffer which we are told was made to Gen. Scott to accept the Presidency of that Republic, with a magnificent salary and emoluments, and a full endowment of power.

For six months General Scott stood at the head of civil and military government in Mexico. He had accomplished a great work; he had done it in a manner which reflected new glory upon his country's arms and his own prowess; and he had consolidated his conquest by an organized administration which fully secured the peace of the country, and ample protection to personal, civil, and religious rights of the people. It would be expected now of course that this victorious conquerer, who had shown himself so eminent both as a warrior and a stateman, having accomplished his work and put an end to the war in a manner so glorious, would be called home by a grateful government to be received with thanks, and plaudits, and the honors of a triumph.

But the President then in power was Mr. Polk, the neminee of a Democratic Convention such as Mr. Pierce is now. It suited the narrow views and selfish purposes of that personage to defraud General Scott, as far as he could do so, of a General Scott, as lar as he could not nation's gratitude so justly due, and to have him come home under a cloud. The following conclusion of a sketch by an eye-witness, Mr. Warclusion of a sketch by an eye-witness, Mr. War-land, now editor of the Lowell Journal, who served in Mexico, may show how General Scott was called away from the scene of his triumps:

In six months, to a day, from the date of his own announcement of the occupancy of the capital, General Scott stood in the National Palace s prisoner, and the chains forged by American hands at home. He was summoned before a court of inquiry in the palace; and as he stood up be-fore his judges, his inferiors, his tall and commanding form the observed of all observers, pleading his rights, modestly alluding to his own services, and portraying the wrongs he had received, one could not but say, "alas, there is reason to complain of the ingratitude of republics."

On the morning of the 14th of March following his entrance into the capital, he stood before that court in the Palace, and addressed his accusers. His words, as he steed up beldly and respect fully before them in the great saloon we have referred to, were as follows: "Here in the capital of Mexico, conquered by the American arms under my command, I find myself but a prisoner at large—the chief criminal before this court. Stricken down from a high command, from a high military position, highest, perhaps, ever occupied by any individ-ual since the days of the Father of his Country— DR. KITTO'S POPULAR CYCLOPEDIA my accursers." There was not an American in Mexico who, as he listened to these words, and saw the old hero, like Columbus in chains, dishonored by his own country, did not feel mortified and ashamed that he should have received such treatment. The whole matter of the court, as every one knows, proved to be a magnificent farce, and was finally dropped, as if the only object of its instigators had been to degrade Scott upon the very theatre of his glorious renown.

And now the scene changes again. On the morning of the 22d of April it became known to some few that General Scott was about to leave the capital of Mexico for his home. In the evening of that day a large assemblage of the friends of the gallant hero collected in front of stared at each other in astonishment. his quarters in the city of Mexico, and bade him farewell by a grand serenade. Several very appropriate and touching airs were played, and, at the close of the very spirit-stirring sounds of "Hail to the Chief," the commanding form of the General was seen to come to the front of the balcony, from whence he bowed his thanks-silently, it is true; but the feelings of many a bounding and warm heart responded, and three loud and hearty cheers were given for General Scott, as he disappeared from the window.

The next morning there was an affecting scene in front of his quarters, as he came out to start upon his journey to Vera Cruz. The Rifle Guard was drawn up to receive him, and as he passed they presented arms to their beloved commander for the last time, and shed tears like children ; and so affected was the old hero that he could hardly get into his carriage. Officers and men crowded around him, and as he was too much overcome to receive them all, those who had not the happiness of shaking him by the hand were glad to get a sight of him as he departed. Those who had not even a chance of seeing him mounted their horses and followed him on the road, determined that he who had led them from victory to victory should not leave the valley of his great operations without one adieu. Around his cariage-for he was too much exhausted by his late heavy labors, and the emotion of parting with his brothers in arms, to ride on horseback—as it proceeded along the causeway to El Penon, the officers crowded, and as fast as one could give the "God bless you, General," and fall back, his place was supplied by another, and so the adieus continued for a long way on the road.

And thus did Winfield Scott leave Mexico-

going, virtually, a prisoner from the capital which but a few months before he had entered as a triumphant conqueror! Will not the people bear this fact in mind, now that they have an opportunity of bestowing their loftiest honors upon one who has reflected such lofty honor and renown upon their country?

Movements of General Scott,

General Scott reached Buffalo en the 12th, and was received with much enthusiasm. He was welcomed in a brief address by the Mayor. General Scott made the following reply to the Mayer:

My fellow-citizens: I am happy to be able to feel that I am not a stranger among you. It is new forty years and one week since I first visited new forty years and one week since I first visited this place—since I first caught a view of the mighty inland ocean which now lies spread before me. It is upwards of forty years, as your Mayor has reminded me, in flattering terms, since I was called upon to form a camp of instruction in this neighborhood, and since the army was first organized and prepared for those great battles which our countrymen do not now choose should be forour countrymen do not now choose should be for-gotten. I well recollect the scenes which were gotten. I well recollect the scenes which were enacted in this neighborhood at that period. They were brought back foreibly to my mind this morning, when I behold some of my fellow-actors in those scenes—for, although so many have passed away, I thank God that a few still several of my ald companions of 1812. have passed away, I trank God that a few still remain of my old companions of 1812. In the space of time which has intervened since then, Buffalo has passed from a hamlet to a mighty city. Thanks to the enterprise add intelligence of its inhabitants, an important city now rises. At that period I was sent here by the government to form a new army, and to endeavor to make head against the enemy. While the army make head against the enemy. While the army remained—and I am proud to say they rendered good service—the inhabitants took courage. They returned to the smouldering ruins where once had stood their dwellings, and commenced rebuilding. While I remained, I had the pleasure of saving their labors progress of behalding of seeing their labors progress, of beholding their houses rise from the foundation to the crowning roof. I had also the satisfaction of having out volunteers to assist them in their work from among the mechanics who had enlisted in the ranks of the army-and brave and noble soldiers they were. They aided the inhabitants in their work, and contributed all in their power to their relief. These are the recollections which make this spot interesting, and render the present moment one of the proudest of my life. There are other associations, too, more personal, with which these scenes are connected. I do not forget that it was in this neighborhood forty years and four days ago this day that I heard the report of the first cannon and first musket that I even beard first cannon and first musket that I ever heard fired in war. I well remember—never, indeed, can I forget—the valuable assistance which the brave patriotic citizens of this vicinity rendered to the army of their country in securing the victeries which followed: I remember the assistance, indeed, received from the inhabitants of the entire frontier, who came to the aid of the regular troops, and helped not a little in achieving the victories which thenceforth crowned our arms. I thank you then heartily, my countrymen of all parties, for this welcome. I make no distinction, and I trust none is made on this occasiou, between Whigs and Democrats. I have made, and I make no allusion to party topics. I say to all my countrymen, whether of this or that party, whether born upon the soil or adopted by your own voluntary acts, I thank you for this greeting, and am proud to call you all my countrymen. Yes, and I am proud, too, to claim your great State of New York as my home for thirty-odd years. I am happy to belong to the great and glorious Union of which this is the Empire City. I am proud and happy to own allegi-ance to that Union, to owe devotion to the Con-stitution and to all the Compromises of the Constitution. In this day of prosperity and sunshine there is little merit in boasting that like you I have been ready at all times to lay down my life in the support of that Union and Constitution. But may I not hope that my past life, in dark w hours, has proved my sincerity, and is guaranty that I partake of your devotes. best interests of our common country. My friends, being debarred from .!! : arty topics; being resolved not in any instance to touch upon such subjects, I have little more to except my hearty thanks th old soldier-for the honor you have this day done me. The occurrences of this day will be added to my other pleasing recollections of your city, and cherished for the remainder of my life, already extended to the usual span, and which cannot last more than fifteen to twenty years longer. Accept then, my friends, my hearty thanks for the warmth and sincerity of your welcome, and may God bless and prosper you all. There were loud and enthusiastic cheers when the General finished this happy address, and the effect of his quiet but earnest manner of delivery was great upon the assemblage. Every man appeared delighted with the old warrior, and they who had been accustomed to believe that he was but an awkward and bungling orator,
